Inference Maker

It is your job to infer how characters feel.

Use evidence in the text to support your thinking. The evidence may be something a character says, does, or thinks about something that has occurred.

Be ready to discuss how one or more characters feel about something that has happened.