

Advertising Executive

Review the books you've read over the last few weeks. Find the one you enjoyed the most. Make an advertisement to persuade others in your class to read this text.

Be creative: Your ad could be for television, radio, newspaper, magazine or billboard.

Present your ad to the class and ask your classmates whether your ad would persuade them to read the book.

Hypothetical

Choose two stories you've read.

Choose a character from one book and an event from the other.

How do you think the character you've chosen from the first book would have reacted or responded to the event you've chosen from the second book?
